About Us

Enterprise Transformation Solutions has been advising executives for over 25 years. Our success with startups stems from our work helping investors with due diligence – we know what they are looking for. ETS prepares startups for funding, and we mentor business executives on strategies to successfully launch and grow the business, achieve the next level of profitability, and exit the market.

ETS has partnered with NEXT to offer mentoring and coaching services based on the client's needs. ETS offers the following packages tailored for NEXT Members to meet their operational needs related to start-up strategy, next-stage growth, and operational change leadership:
